

Activity Report: Official Launch of the National Greening Education Strategy

1. Event Overview

On November 28, 2025, the Arab Network for Popular Education (ANPE) - Lebanese Coalition for Education participated in the high-level official launch of Lebanon's National Greening Education Strategy. The event was held at the Grand Serail under the esteemed patronage of H.E. Prime Minister Nawaf Salam.

The launch brought together a diverse group of stakeholders, including government ministers, national institutions like CRDP LIBAN, UN agencies (notably the UNESCO Office in Beirut), international donors, and fellow civil society organizations.

2. Strategic Vision and Objectives

The National Greening Education Strategy represents a landmark commitment to integrating environmental sustainability into the heart of the Lebanese education system. The strategy is built upon four primary pillars:

- Greening Learning Environments: Transforming schools and educational centers into sustainable, eco-friendly spaces.
 - Curricula Integration: Embedding climate change education and environmental stewardship across all levels of the national curricula.
 - Capacity Building: Strengthening the skills and readiness of educators and educational institutions to lead environmental initiatives.
 - Unified Framework: Consolidating all existing "green" initiatives into one coherent, national roadmap to ensure efficiency and impact.

3. Role of the Arab Network for Popular Education (ANPE) - Lebanese Coalition for Education

As a leading voice for civil society in the education sector, the Arab Network for Popular Education (ANPE) - Lebanese Coalition for Education welcomed this initiative as a vital step toward a resilient future. The Coalition's participation highlights its commitment to:

- Advocacy for Sustainable Rights: Ensuring that the right to quality education includes the right to learn in a safe and sustainable environment.

- Collaborative Implementation: Supporting the Ministry of Education and Higher Education (MEHE) and CRDP in translating this high-level strategy into grassroots actions within local communities.
 - Empowering Learners: Advocating for pedagogical approaches that provide every learner in Lebanon with the confidence and skills to navigate climate challenges.

4. Conclusion

The launch at the Grand Serail marks a collective turning point for the Lebanese education sector. By aligning national policies with global environmental goals, the Arab Network for Popular Education (ANPE) - Lebanese Coalition for Education and its partners are ensuring that education serves as a powerful tool for social justice and environmental sustainability. This strategy ensures that future generations are not only aware of climate issues but are actively equipped to build a more sustainable Lebanon.
